SORRY
GOPS

wait nevermind there was a misunderstanding

as you can see, many men are bisexual, and despite shifting labels and cultural norms, this has been the case throughout much of history across the globe.

so riddle me this:
if all these guys are bisexual, why shouldn't you be?

MYTH: "being bisexual means you're promiscuous, it means you're a cheater, it means you're inappropriate to have around kids, blah blah blah."

FACT: being bisexual means that you are into people of more than one gender. that's literally it. the rest is up to you.

fictional anime vampire
DIO BRANDO

writer & professor of literature
JAIME SÁENZ

legendary playwright
WILLIAM SHAKESPEARE

(note: while shakespeare is a historical figure from an era in which notions of sexual orientation & identity were not the same as they are today, scholarly research indicates he had relationships with people of multiple genders)

singer & actor
LESLIE CHEUNG

TRY THIS:

if someone says to you, "it's just a phase!" you can say...
- "So what?"
- "Yeah, it's great, you should try it sometime"
- "Being straight is just a phase. Eventually you'll realize you're bisexual"
- just kind of stare at them

MYTH: "it's weird how there are no bisexual guys."
FACT: it would indeed be weird if there were no bisexual guys, but... there totally are. I'M bisexual guys. many guys you know are probably bisexual guys here are some bisexual guys you may know of...

rock & roll star
FREDDIE MERCURY

poet & politician
LORD BYRON

(note: while byron is a historical figure from an era in which notions of sexual orientation & identity were not the same as they are today and would not have used the "bisexual" label, scholarly research indicates he had relationships with people of multiple genders)

MYTH: "bisexuality is just a phase. all bisexuals will eventually come out as gay or lesbian."
FACT: many people are happily bisexual their entire lives. at the same time, it's okay if you think you may be bisexual and later decide you are something else. it's your identity--you make the rules.

ok, glad we cleared that up. next, what ISN'T bisexuality?

bisexuality is NOT:

- "just a phase" before someone comes out as gay
- only for women
- something that makes you more promiscuous than heterosexuals or homosexuals

these are all MYTHS which we will now explore further.

first things first. what is

BISEXUALITY?

bisexual advocate Robyn Ochs defines bisexuality as

"The potential to be attracted...to people of more than one sex and/or gender, not necessarily at the same time, not necessarily in the same way, and not necessarily to the same degree."

THX!

the following are
SOME (but not all) of the perks of being BISEXUAL.

NO LIMITS!

the world is your oyster.

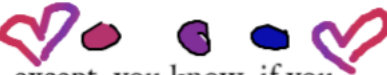

you see someone you like?
since you're BISEXUAL,
you can go out with them
without worrying about limitations such as GENDER.

(if they like you back, of course).

it's one more thing you have
in common with doctor
robotnik, aka "eggman."

with benefits such as these,
it's clear that there's no reason NOT to be bisexual!

except, you know, if you don't want to. that's fine too.

but if you haven't yet
considered giving it a shot...

WHY NOT find out if bisexuality is right for YOU?

you may notice
that a great deal of bisexual representation in the media depicts bisexuality as a source of strife and conflict, both external and internal.
while dealing with ill-
informed bigots is obviously annoying as all get out,
being bisexual is actually extremely awesome.

the bisexual pride flag
is the coolest looking one (in my opinion).

i mean, just look at it.
it's effortlessly stylish,
and has a certain timeless flair.

that's pretty
convenient.

you never have to change the pronouns
singing love songs at karaoke.
